About me

I'm Franco Ortega and I'm 20 years old. I consider myself as someone compromised, proactive, who is always looking to learn something new and like teamwork and communication

I'm currently studying Full Stack Development at Coderhouse, complementing it with my self-taught spirit.

I'm really passionate about learning new things and I'm always looking for a new challenge to develop professionally and be a better version of me.

Job Interest

Introduce myself to the professional world as a Junior and become independent with the knowledge I have gained while I continue with my studies.
